

General

Environmental Justice: The fair treatment and meaningful involvement of all people regardless of race, color, national origin, or income, with respect to the development, implementation, and enforcement of environmental laws, regulations, and policies. This goal will be achieved when everyone enjoys:

- The same degree of protection from environmental and health hazards;
- Equal access to the decision-making process to have a healthy environment in which to live, learn, and work. Source: Environmental Protection Agency

- Webinar: A Laudato Si' Lens on Environmental Justice: Pt. 1 | 1 hour | Catholic Climate Covenant
This webinar unpacks the meaning of environmental justice and how Catholic Social Teaching, in particular Laudato Si', gives us a helpful lens to view and act on this important issue.

“Environmental racism is the disproportionate impact of environmental hazards on people of color. Environmental justice is the movement’s response to environmental racism.”
