MISSION: Regina Cleri is a fraternal residence for senior priests of the Archdiocese of Boston. We foster the development of an integrated community by promoting growth spiritually and intellectually. We provide quality holistic care that nurtures the spirit, mind and body of our residents. We are committed to creating a safe environment by maintaining a climate of dignity, confidentiality and trust while supporting each priest in making his own decisions and promoting his independence.

DESCRIPTION: Regina Cleri is a home for retired priests of the Archdiocese of Boston established to provide physical and spiritual support as well as to house and feed its residents. It offers a quality of life that offers enrichment to the spiritual lives of the priest residents as well as continuing education in new developments within the Catholic Church.
