

April 8, 2003 - Statement of Bishop Richard Lennon, Apostolic Administrator, Archdiocese of Boston

One of my primary efforts as Apostolic Administrator has been to work toward ending division and fostering unity within the Archdiocese of Boston. In light of this, I am disappointed that Catholic Charities has decided to accept money from the Voice of Compassion Fund. However, in keeping with this stated goal I will not take any steps at this time regarding their decision. While I am indeed committed to fostering unity, I remain committed to responding to those who stand in need of assistance. It is my sincere hope that as we move forward the unity that is a hallmark of the Church and that is so necessary for the Archdiocese of Boston will be brought about by all of us working together.
