

January 12, 2007 - Steeple for Sacred Heart, Weymouth to be installed January 17

With the installation of the pyramid steeple structure, this doubles the height of the church being constructed. This also completes the steel structure. Should there be inclement weather on Wednesday, January 17th, an announcement will be sent out. Sacred Heart Church was destroyed in a fire in June 2005. Mass has been celebrated in the adjacent school auditorium while the construction of the new church takes place.
